Dear Labor:

I am a retired attorney. Since retirement I have spent a lot of money educating myself on "money management" and securities trading. I am perfectly capable of managing my own monetary affairs without any guidance from the Department of Labor. I successfully trade over 100 contracts per month. These contracts involve options, futures, and some crude and bonds. The last thing I need is more regulation to interfere with my choices as to how I manage my money. I urge you to vote against any such legislation. Thanks. Charles Harry Green

Sincerely,

Mr. Charles H. Green
